

Booking form

I would like to book place(s) on Judicial Review Trends and Forecasts on 20th October 2004.

The standard fee per delegate is £250.00 + VAT = £293.75

I enclose a cheque for £ or
Please invoice me (delete where applicable).

Workshop sessions (please circle):

Morning: 1st choice: 1 or 2

Afternoon: 1st choice: 3 or 4

Special dietary requirements:

Name: _____

Position: _____

Firm: _____

Address: _____

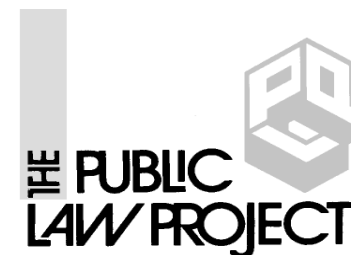

_____ Post code: _____

Tel: _____ Fax: _____

Email: _____

Please return to:

Training Department, Public Law Project,
266-268 Holloway Road, London N7 6NE
Tel: 0207 697 2190 Fax: 0207 697 2199
Email: admin@publiclawproject.org.uk

Judicial Review: Trends & Forecasts

A major training event presented by the Public Law Project in collaboration with a number of other public law specialists.

- Wednesday 20 October 2004: 9.30 am - 4.45 pm
- A lively mixture of lectures, debate and workshops
- Hosted by Herbert Smith at: Exchange House,
Primrose Street,
London, EC2A 2HS
- Accredited for 6 hours CPD (Law Society and Bar Council)
- Refreshments and lunch will be provided
- The venue is wheelchair accessible

Conrad Haley: Acting Director of PLP

Where are we now? Conrad introduces the event, places it in context and provides an overview of the main topical issues in public law and judicial review practice and procedure. Conrad is a solicitor who lectures and practices in social welfare law.

Mike Fordham: Blackstone Chambers

Where are we going? Mike sets out the authoritative forecast of trends in judicial review for practitioners at the cutting edge. Mike's practice covers the entire range of judicial review subject-matter, acting for claimants, defendants and interested parties. He is the author of the Judicial Review Handbook and co-editor of the journal Judicial Review.

Lynne Knapman: Head of the Administrative Court Office

Lynne explains the current litigation do's & don'ts from the Administrative Court perspective. This is the definitive insider's view – Lynne is a barrister and the Head of the Administrative Court Office and Deputy Registrar of Criminal Appeals.

Kate Markus: Doughty Street Chambers

Kate discusses the target of judicial review proceedings – recent developments in the concept of the 'public authority'. She is a founder and current Chair of PLP, and co-author of the review of developments in Public Law published in "Legal Action."

Nathalie Lieven: Landmark Chambers and

Richard Stein: Partner at Leigh Day & Co

Nathalie and Richard debate the efficacy of 'Third Party Interventions'. Do they really help the court or the parties? Guidance on Intervention procedures and related issues will be provided. Natalie is a specialist in public law and has appeared in many high profile cases. Richard specialises in public law challenges.

James Findlay: 2-3 Grays Inn Square

James discusses tactics used by Defendants. Will they try to take the wind out of your sails? Nail their colours to the mast? Or defuse the claim before it gets to court? This will be of interest to defendant and claimant lawyers alike. James practices across the range of public law matters and has appeared before the Lords twice this year.

You are asked to select between two options for the morning and afternoon workshops:

Morning Workshops:

(1) The Public Law Project, with Dan Kolinsky (Landmark Chambers), lead a discussion on the hot-topic 'ADR – politics & practice, choice or compulsion'.

(2) Richard Stein discusses 'Funding options for public law remedies': advising clients in the light of increasing restrictions on public funding.

Afternoon workshops:

(3) Brian Day, a former solicitor and now PLP costs draftsman, explains how to maximise your costs and discusses the rules on costs in JR, pre- and post-permission.

(4) John Halford, a solicitor at Bindmans and formerly a Project Solicitor at PLP, leads a workshop on 'Strategy in JR - using the procedure to the Claimant's advantage'.

To book, please fill in the form on the back of the leaflet (copies are fine) and send it to PLP.

We will send you further details of the event, including a map and full schedule for the day, on receipt of your booking.